

Sermon Rewind – August 14, 2006

Another Monday morning. Did you thank God for allowing you to see a new Monday? Do it now, if you haven't already. The simple act of thanking God for another day provides you another opportunity to turn aside from the "sheep" you're tending, so you can get closer to Him.

I turned aside from "Good Morning America" this morning, so I could draw closer. Did God speak to me from a burning bush? No. But I know He wants to talk with me. And as I respond to His call, whether in my office or in the car, I know I've entered onto Holy Ground. Where is your "burning bush" today? Don't let the bleating of the sheep distract you. Turn aside to Lam. 3:21-26. You might want to remove your sandals. Enjoy.
