

Monday Morning Rewind – September 4, 2006

Happy Labor Day. I hope the “Heart of Worship” series was a blessing to you and that the concept shared helped you connect with God in new ways. The series may be over, but the journey to being an authentic worshiper never really ends. Remember, God is actively seeking “dance” partners who will worship Him in spirit and in truth. Are you the kind of worshiper the Father seeks?

Some time this week, take the challenge presented Sabbath. Write, “What God is worth to me” as a heading across a sheet of paper. Then, under that heading, attempt to list or put in words the value you place on God. What does He mean to you? How would you describe His worth in your life? As you do this exercise you will be involved in giving “worth-ship” to God.

Rewind to John 3:7, 14, and 4:24 and review the three divine imperatives or “musts” that Jesus spoke to Nicodemus and the Samaritan woman. Are these imperatives a reality in your Christian experience? Be sure to talk to God about any of the three that might be lacking. God bless you this week as you continue to discover the heart of worship.

P.S. Suzette and I will miss being with you next Sabbath, August 9. We will be speaking at the Twin Falls church camp out at camp Tawakani. An eNews with guest speaker information will follow shortly. Blessings.
